

CORNELL small FARMS PROGRAM

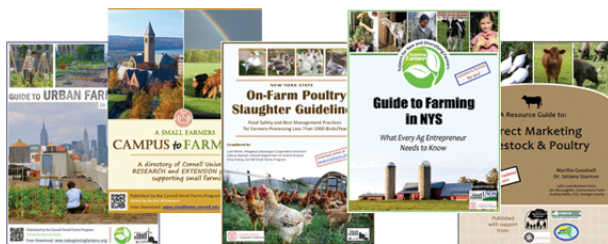

What we do...

Our mission is to foster the sustainability of diverse, thriving small farms that contribute to food security, healthy rural communities, and the environment.

Publications

Need to know how to produce food in an urban area? How to properly kill and prepare a poultry carcass for sale? Looking for university and extension research that is applicable to your small farm? Our wide selection of "How-to" Guides tell you everything you need to know! Visit <http://smallfarms.cornell.edu/resources/>

Small Farm Quarterly

The Small Farms Quarterly magazine is published seasonally and reaches 17,000 households across the Northeast. It is compiled by the Small Farms Program and published by Countryfolks. Read online or subscribe at: www.smallfarms.cornell.edu/quarterly

Major Projects

NE Beginning Farmers Project

Our Northeast Beginning Farmer Project provides online courses in farm planning & production, self-guided lessons on the farm start-up process, 'Voices of Experience' mentoring videos, & much more. Visit the New Farmer Hub at www.nebeginningfarmers.org

Wholesale Market Trainings

This project offers trainings to farmers and ag service providers to assess changes needed in production, storage, packaging and handling to satisfy larger markets such as food hubs, grocery stores and restaurants. Learn more at smallfarms.cornell.edu/projects/wholesale-marketing

Beginning Farmer Learning Network

Do you work with beginning farmers? Each year, we host a professional development training for beginning farmer specialists across the Northeast to improve support and educational programs for beginning farmers. Visit the Trainers Toolbox for information about this annual conference and webinar series. nebeginningfarmers.org/trainers

Agroforestry Outreach

Looking to integrate fruits, nuts, mushrooms, medicinals, animals, and more into your forest systems? Check out our new agroforestry resource library and sign up for a workshop near you! www.smallfarms.cornell.edu

Small Farm Summits

The biennial Small Farm Summits are state-wide meetings where farmers, researchers, educators, and policy makers gather to reflect on progress to date and set new priorities to meet the needs of New York's smaller farms. Your input and attendance at these meetings is important! Learn more at: www.smallfarms.cornell.edu/projects

Contact Us

607-255-9227
smallfarmsprogram@cornell.edu

15A Plant Science
Cornell University
Ithaca, NY 14853

Cornell University
Cooperative Extension

www.smallfarms.cornell.edu